McMan

P-CAP-EE is a program that supports parents diagnosed with, or suspected of having, fetal alcohol spectrum disorder (FASD)¹. The program provides support to parents in order to strengthen parenting skills, decrease breakdowns within the parent-child relationship and build on existing strengths within the home.

¹ FASD is an umbrella term that is used to denote an array of developmental, physical, learning and behavioural conditions. For more information, visit: www.mycfan.ca

Approach

Program parents are supported in accessing community services, as well as securing safe and stable homes for their children.

Assistance is provided in the areas of:

- Personal goal identification
- Life skills development
- Housing and safety education
- Health/mental care
- Parenting techniques and information
- Family planning
- Support with addiction
- Education and employment
- Community integration and support

The P-CAP-EE program has ensured that over 95% of families have obtained stable housing and over 70% of families have remained intact.

Program Intake

Parents who are diagnosed with, or suspected of having, FASD and are parenting their children at least 50% of the time. For program intake, call (403) 590-3285.
